For his complaint against respondents, petitioner alleges as follows.

JURISDICTION AND VENUE

1. This action arises under the Constitution of the United States and the Immigration and Nationality Act (INA), 8 U.S.C. § 1101 et. seq.

PETITION FOR HABEAS CORPUS

2. This court has subject matter jurisdiction under 28 U.S.C. § 2241 (habeas corpus), 28 U.S.C. § 1331 (federal question), and Article I, § 9, cl. 2 of the United States Constitution (Suspension Clause).

3. In addition, "a federal court always has jurisdiction to determine its own jurisdiction," including its own subject-matter jurisdiction. Brownback v. King, 592 U.S. 209, 218-19 (2021) (quoting United States v. Ruiz, 536 U.S. 622, 628 (2002)).

4. To give a court a reasonable opportunity to determine whether it has subject-matter jurisdiction and whether venue is proper in a district, and if so to consider the validity of a habeas petition, a court may order the preservation of the status quo. See United States v. United Mine Workers of Am., 330 U.S. 258, 293 (1947) ("[T]he District Court ha[s] the power to preserve existing conditions while it ... determine[s] its own authority to grant injunctive relief," unless the assertion of jurisdiction is frivolous.).

5. Venue is proper because petitioner is now in custody in Oregon and because a substantial part of the events giving rise to his claims occurred in this district. 28 U.S.C. § 1391(e). For these same reasons, divisional venue is proper under Local Rule 3.2(b).

THE PETITIONER

6. Petitioner is a resident of the state of Oregon, and he is in the state of Oregon as of the time of filing this petition. Petitioner is a citizen of Guatemala.

CUSTODY

7. Petitioner was arrested by agents of the respondents on November 8, 2025, at about 10:00am and is in their actual physical custody at the time of the filing of this petition.

PROCEEDING ANONYMOUSLY

8. Petitioner seeks leave to proceed anonymously because public identification creates a risk of retaliatory physical harm risk due to his status as potential asylum seeker in the United States, and the nature of his claim is sensitive and highly personal. See Does I thru XXIII v. Advanced Textile Corp., 214 F.3d 1058, 1068 (9th Cir. 2000).

9. Petitioner will provide his 2025, to respondents under seal or other appropriate means of communication under the circumstances of this case.

RESPONDENTS

10. Respondent DREW BOSTOCK is the Field Office Director for the Seattle Field Office, Immigration and Customs Enforcement and Removal Operations (“ICE”). The Seattle Field Office is responsible for local custody decisions relating to non-citizens charged with being removable from the United States, including the arrest, detention, and custody status of noncitizens.

11. The Seattle Field Office’s area of responsibility includes Alaska, Oregon, and Washington. Consequently, respondent DREW BOSTOCK is the immediate legal custodian of petitioner.

12. Respondent KRISTI NOEM is the Secretary of Homeland Security and is responsible for the actions of that department, its subagencies, officers and personnel.

13. Respondent PAMELA BONDI is the Attorney General of the United States and has responsibility for the conduct and operations of the Department of Justice and all of its officers and personnel, including the Executive Office for Immigration Review.

14. Respondent TODD LYONS is the Acting Director of ICE, and responsible for the means by which the immigration laws of the United States are enforced.

15. Respondent U.S. DEPARTMENT OF HOMELAND SECURITY is an agency of the United States with responsibility for the enforcement of the nation's immigration laws. It is under the direction of respondent KRISTI NOEM.

16. Respondent U.S. IMMIGRATION AND CUSTOMS ENFORCEMENT is an agency of respondent U.S. DEPARTMENT OF HOMELAND SECURITY and is under the direction of respondent TODD LYONS.

17. Respondent U.S. DEPARTMENT OF JUSTICE is an agency of the United States and is under the direction of respondent PAMELA BONDI.

18. All individual defendants are sued in their official capacities.

FIRST CLAIM FOR RELIEF

VIOLATION OF THE FIFTH AMENDMENT TO THE U.S. CONSTITUTION -

UNLAWFUL DETENTION WITHOUT DUE PROCESS

19. Petitioner re-alleges and incorporates by reference all prior paragraphs of this Petition as if fully set forth herein.

20. Petitioner is a noncitizen lawfully present in the United States pursuant to 8 U.S.C. § 1158 while his/her asylum application remains pending before the Immigration Court. Petitioner filed his asylum application with the Portland Immigration Court on September 25th, 2019. Petitioner has a scheduled master hearing on December 16, 2025.

21. Despite Petitioner's full compliance with immigration proceedings, including attendance at all prior hearings and ongoing eligibility for relief, Respondents—acting through the Department of Homeland Security (DHS) and Immigration and Customs Enforcement (ICE)—arrested and detained Petitioner on November 8, 2025, without providing a lawful basis for detention or an individualized determination of flight risk or danger to the community.

22. The Immigration and Nationality Act (INA) § 236, 8 U.S.C. § 1226, as interpreted by the Supreme Court and Ninth Circuit, limits the government's authority to detain noncitizens without adequate procedural safeguards. Petitioner's detention is unauthorized because Petitioner is not subject to a final order of removal, and thus may only be detained under § 1226(a), which requires a prompt bond hearing before a neutral decisionmaker.

23. By continuing to detain Petitioner without a timely and meaningful custody redetermination hearing, Respondents have violated Petitioner's rights to substantive and procedural due process under the Fifth Amendment to the U.S. Constitution.

24. Petitioner's ongoing detention also frustrates the purpose of the INA and interferes with the exercise of statutory rights to seek asylum and related protection, in violation of 8 U.S.C. § 1158(a)(1) and applicable regulations, including 8 C.F.R. § 208.3(a).

25. Accordingly, Petitioner is entitled to a writ of habeas corpus ordering Respondents to release Petitioner immediately or, in the alternative, to provide a prompt individualized bond hearing before an Immigration Judge at which the government bears the burden of proving by clear and convincing evidence that Petitioner is a flight risk or danger to the community.

SECOND CLAIM FOR RELIEF

THIRD COUNTRY REMOVAL VIOLATES DUE PROCESS

26. With certain exceptions not applicable here, an alien in removal proceedings may designate the country of removal. 8 U.S.C. § 1231(b)(2)(A)(i). In general, the Attorney General is required to remove the alien to the country designated by the alien. 8 U.S.C. § 1231(b)(2)(A)(ii). If removal to the country designated is not possible, the statute permits removal to alternative countries which meet one of six specified categories. 8 U.S.C. § 1231(b)(2)(E)(i) through (vi).

27. If it is “impracticable, inadvisable, or impossible to remove the alien” to one of these six categories of countries, then removal may be to “another country whose government will accept the alien into that country.” 8 U.S.C. § 1231(b)(2)(E).

28. Regardless of whether an alien can be found to be removable to any country under 8 U.S.C. § 1231(b)(2), the Attorney General may not remove an alien to a country if the Attorney General decides that the alien's life or freedom would be threatened in that country because of the alien's race, religion, nationality, membership in a particular social group, or political opinion.” 8 U.S.C. § 1231(b)(3)(A). These are called “protected grounds.” There are five exceptions that permit removal even in the face of threatened harm on protected grounds. See 8 U.S.C. § 1231(b)(3)(B)(i) through (v).

29. The determination of whether the petitioner would face a threat to his life or liberty on a protected ground in any particular country of removal is a matter to be taken up in the immigration court. But due process requires petitioner to be given a reasonable opportunity to present this case to an immigration court. See Aden v. Nielsen, 409 F. Supp. 3d 998, 1004 (W.D. Wash. 2019).

30. On January 20, 2025, the president signed an Executive Order, entitled Securing our Borders, which instructed the Secretary of State, Attorney General, and DHS Secretary to “take all appropriate action to facilitate additional international cooperation and agreements, . . . , including [safe third country agreements] or any other applicable provision of law.” Exec. Order No. 14165, 90 Fed. Reg. 8467, 8468 (Jan. 20, 2025).

31. On or about February 18, 2025, ICE directed officers to review cases for third country deportations and take back into custody persons previously released, including people granted withholding of removal or CAT protection.¹

¹Nick Miroff and Maria Sacchetti, Trump Seeks to Fast-Track Deportations of Hundreds of Thousands, The Washington Post (Feb. 28, 2025). For text of directive, see Ted Hesson and Kristina Cooke, Trump Weighs Revoking Legal Status of Ukrainians as US Steps Up Deportations, Reuters (Mar. 6, 2025).

32. On March 5, 2025, the New York Times reported: “[ICE leadership] are considering deporting people who have been found to have a legitimate fear of torture in their home countries to third nations[.]”²

33. Plaintiffs have a due process right to meaningful notice and opportunity to present a fear-based claim to an immigration judge before DHS deports a person to a third country. Aden v. Nielsen, 409 F. Supp. 3d 998, 1004 (W.D. Wash. 2019). Plaintiffs also have a due process right to implementation of a process or procedure to afford these protections. See McNary v. Haitian Refugee Ctr., Inc., 498 U.S. 479, 491 (1991).

34. To comport with due process, notice of removal to a third country must be given sufficiently in advance of the deportation, in a language the person understands, and provide a stay of removal for enough time to permit the filing of a motion to reopen removal proceedings to allow a meaningful opportunity to present a fear-based claim related to that country. Andriasian, 180 F.3d at 1041; Aden, 409 F. Supp. 3d at 1009.

35. Respondents have not provided meaningful notice and opportunity to contest a third country removal. Consequently, petitioner's detention is unlawful, and a writ of habeas corpus should issue.

36. Wherefore petitioner prays for relief as follows in that this court:

- a. Assume jurisdiction over this matter.
- b. Order Respondents to show cause within three days why this petition should not be granted.

²Hamed Aleaziz and Zolan Kanno-Youngs, Frustration Grows Inside the White House Over Pace of Deportations, N.Y. Times (Mar. 5, 2025).

c. Bar respondents from removing petitioner from the District of Oregon absent further order of this court.

d. Issue a Writ of Habeas Corpus ordering Petitioner's release from custody.

e. Award Petitioner his attorney's fees and costs; and

f. Grant any other relief that the Court deems just and proper.
