

UNITED STATES DISTRICT COURT
WESTERN DISTRICT OF TEXAS
SAN ANTONIO DIVISION

Zhu Aiqing, Mother and Next Friend and
On Behalf of W.J., A Minor;
Petitioner,

v.

Facility Director, Compass Connections et. al.
Respondents.

Case No. 5:26-CV-00661-XR

RESPONSE TO PETITION FOR WRIT OF HABEAS CORPUS
CONSIDERING RECENT FIFTH CIRCUIT PRECEDENT

Federal Respondents provide the following response to Petitioner's habeas petition.¹ Any allegations that are not specifically admitted herein are denied. Petitioner is not entitled to the relief sought. As an applicant for admission, Petitioner is subject to mandatory detention under 8 U.S.C. § 1225(b)(2). Buenrostro v. Bondi, No. 25-20496, ---- F.4th ---- 2026 WL 323330, at *1 (5th Cir. Feb. 6, 2026). The Buenrostro decision is binding precedent and requires that the Court deny this habeas petition as it relates to the statutory authority to detain Petitioner during removal proceedings.² For the reasons that follow, Respondents also urge this Court to find that Petitioner has not shown that this mandatory detention provision is unconstitutional as applied to him.

² The Buenrostro decision is a published decision and precedential authority even though the mandate has yet to issue. See, e.g., Martin v. Singletary, 965 F.2d 944, 945 n.1 (11th Cir. 1992) (explaining that even a stay in the issuance of a mandate does not impact the precedential value of published opinions); Acute Care Ambul. Serv., L.L.C. v. Azar II, No. 7:20-CV-00217, 2020 WL 7640206, at *13 (S.D. Tex. Dec. 3, 2020) (rejecting the argument that a Fifth Circuit decision is not controlling because "the mandate has yet to issue, and thus not properly relied upon as precedent."). As such, each pre-Buenrostro district court decision cited in this Court's Order to Show Cause is no longer good law as it relates to ICE's statutory authority to detain certain aliens on a mandatory basis under 8 U.S.C. § 1225(b). To the extent this Court relies on those decisions to decide whether there is a viable due process claim here, that argument will be addressed infra.

BACKGROUND

Petitioner, through his mother who claims “next friend” standing, alleges that Petitioner is detained at Compass Connections. ECF No. 1 at ¶ 8. Petitioner claims that in July 2025, he was “confined in a psychiatric facility” prior to being transferred to Compass Connections, a facility designated to house minors. Id. ¶ 13. Petitioner alleges that he is being held without any legal basis and that he is subject to being transferred to an adult detention facility. Id. ¶¶ 14–15. Petitioner’s motion for temporary restraining order was denied after a hearing where Petitioner’s mother failed to appear. See ECF No. 6.

Petitioner is not in ICE custody, but he is in the custody of the U.S. Department of Health and Human Services, Office of Refugee Resettlement (ORR) (or a contractor acting on their behalf). See 8 U.S.C. § 1231(b)(1), (3). Neither HHS, nor ORR, is listed as a party to this litigation; only the facility itself is listed. See ECF No. 1.

Once Petitioner turns 18 years old, he will be transferred to ICE custody while he pursues relief in his removal proceedings. DHS served Petitioner with a Notice to Appear (NTA) in immigration court on January 14, 2026. See Ex. A (NTA). DHS filed the NTA with the immigration court the following day, commencing removal proceedings against Petitioner. Id. Petitioner was scheduled for an initial hearing before an immigration judge on February 4, 2026. Id. Petitioner’s next hearing is scheduled for February 25, 2026. See <https://acis.eoir.justice.gov/en/caseInformation> (last accessed Feb. 17, 2026). Petitioner’s mother filed this habeas petition on his behalf on or about February 2, 2026. ECF No. 1.

PETITIONER IS SUBJECT TO MANDATORY DETENTION

Petitioner seeks an order from this Court directing the Department of Homeland Security (“DHS”) to immediately release Petitioner from immigration detention. Such relief is inappropriate, and the Court should deny the petition under Buenrostro-Mendez. In Buenrostro-Mendez, the Fifth Circuit rejected the primary arguments that Petitioner here raises that detention under 8 U.S.C. § 1225 and the Board of Immigration Appeal’s (“BIA”) decision in Matter of Yajure-Hurtado, 29 I&N Dec. 216 (BIA 2025), is unlawful. Buenrostro-Mendez, 2026 WL 323330 at * 1.

To the extent Petitioner claims he is not properly categorized as an applicant for admission, “the text and context of § 1225 contradict the petitioner[’s] reading of the statute.” Id. at *9. Aliens present in the United States who have not been admitted by lawful means, remain “applicants for admission” who are “seeking admission.” 2026 WL 323330 at *4. The Buenrostro court explained that “[w]hen a person applies for something, they are necessarily seeking it.” Id. In so holding, the court rejected the reasoning that the phrase “seeking admission” in § 1225(b)(2)(A) uses the present tense and thus applies only to individuals “currently and actively seeking to be admitted to the United States when [they are] apprehended.” Id. at *3. The Fifth Circuit held that “the everyday meaning of the statute’s terms confirms that being an ‘applicant for admission’ is not a condition independent from ‘seeking admission.’” Id. at *4.

Buenrostro, recognizing that the plain language of the Immigration and Nationality Act (“INA”) controlled the analysis and outcome, also rejected arguments based on the Executive’s past interpretation and application of § 1225 and § 1226. 2026 WL 323330 at * 8. “Years of consistent practice cannot vindicate an interpretation that is inconsistent with a statute’s plain text.” Id. (citing, Pereira v. Sessions, 585 U.S. 198, 204, 138 S. Ct. 2105, 2111 (2018)). The Fifth Circuit observed that the Government’s interpretation and application of § 1225(b)(2)—the full enforcement of § 1225(b)(2)’s plain terms—“better honors” the intent of Congress’s amendments to the INA to “put aliens seeking admission lawfully on equal footing with those who entered without inspection.” Id. at * 9.

Respondents acknowledge that many courts in the Western District of Texas have ruled otherwise in previous habeas cases, but this significant, indeed, binding development in the Fifth Circuit now warrants a different approach. “After reviewing carefully the relevant provisions and structure of the [INA], the statutory history, and Congressional intent” the Fifth Circuit concluded that the detention authority relied upon by the government is lawful. Buenrostro, at *1.

The Fifth Circuit is not the only court to so hold. District courts around the country agree. See Singh v. Noem, No. 2:25-CV-00157-SCM, 2026 WL 74558 (E.D. Ky. Jan. 9, 2026) (Meredith, J.) (holding that Petitioner, as an applicant for admission, is properly detained without bond under § 1225); Cruz Rodriguez v. Olson, -- F. Supp. 3d --, No. 1:25-CV-12961, 2026 WL 63613 (N.D. Ill. Jan. 8, 2026) (Pacold, J.) (holding that Petitioner was an applicant for admission seeking entry and thus subject to mandatory detention without bond); Naikpay v. Sukkar, No. 2:25-CV-1167-KCD-DNF, 2026 WL 44820 (M.D. Fla. Jan. 7, 2026) (Dudek, J.) (holding that alien released on humanitarian parole and later re-apprehended remained an applicant for admission under § 1225); Azizzadeh v. Rhoney, No. 25-CV-1288 (JLS), 2026 WL 44324 (W.D.N.Y. Jan. 6, 2026) (Sinatra, Jr., J.) (holding that despite being in the United States, Petitioner is an applicant for admission and no bond hearing is required); Zuniga v. Lyons, No. 1:25-CV-221-H, 2025 WL 3755126 (N.D. Tex. Dec. 29, 2025) (Hendrix, J.) (holding that alien residing in U.S. for 25-years remains an applicant for admission and shall be detained by § 1225 without entitlement to a bond hearing); Masis Lucero, v. Field Office Director of Enforcement and Removal Operations, No. 1:25-CV-823, 2025 WL 3718730 (S.D. Ohio Dec. 23, 2025) (Cole, J.) (holding that § 1225 applies to noncitizens present in the US but never admitted and requires detention through the end of removal proceedings); Padilla v. Galovich, No. 25-CV-865-JDP, 2025 WL 3640960 (W.D. Wis. Dec. 16, 2025) (Peterson, J.) (holding that Petitioner, as an applicant for admission, is not entitled to a bond hearing under § 1225 despite an improper release on bond when he was transferred from expedited removal into asylum proceedings); Liang v. Almodovar, No. 1:25-cv-09322, 2025 WL 3641512 (S.D.N.Y. Dec. 15, 2025) (Vyskocil, J.)(holding that because no immigration officer has decided that Petitioner is clearly and beyond a doubt entitled to be admitted, he is subject to mandatory detention under § 1225); P. B. v. Bergami, No. 3:25-CV-02978-O, 2025 WL 3632752 (N.D. Tex. Dec. 13, 2025) (O'Connor, J.) (holding that Petitioner, still awaiting her asylum hearing, is an application for admission that is seeking admission subject to mandatory detention under § 1225); Delgado v. Noem, No. 9:25-CV-00329, 2025 WL 3639439 (E.D. Tex. Dec. 12, 2025) (Truncale, J.) (holding that petitioner is validly detained pending removal proceedings under § 1225 and § 1226 and that habeas was an improper means to challenge custody redetermination decisions); Garcia v. U.S. Attn'y Gen., No. 2:25-CV-1053-KCD-DNF, 2025 WL 3537592 (M.D. Fla. Dec. 10, 2025) (Dudek, J.) (holding that Petitioner, who was apprehended at the border, is an applicant for admission subject to mandatory detention under §1225, and that one month of detention falls below the constitutional threshold for a potential due process violation); Rodriguez v. Noem, No. 9:25-CV-00320, 2025 WL 3639440 (E.D. Tex. Dec. 10, 2025) (Truncale, J.) (holding that Petitioner is properly detained without a bond hearing as an applicant for admission subject to § 1225, that § 1226 would only permit a discretionary hearing, and that habeas relief is improper for the alleged procedural violation); Oliveria v. Albarran, No. 1:25-CV-01760 WBS AC, 2025 WL 3525923 (E.D. Cal. Dec. 9, 2025) (Shubb, J.) (holding that because § 1225 authorizes mandatory detention and is silent on bond hearings, due process is satisfied by the statutory scheme itself); Melgar v. Bondi, No. 8:25CV555, 2025 WL 3496721 (D. Neb. Dec. 5, 2025) (Buescher, J.)

(holding that Petitioner is properly detained under § 1225, which does not require the alien to be actively seeking admission, even if he may also be subject to § 1226); Candido v. Bondi, No. 25-CV-867, 2025 WL 3484932 (W.D.N.Y. Dec. 4, 2025) (Sinatra Jr., J.) (holding that Petitioner is an application for admission that is seeking admission under § 1225 despite having lived illegal within the United States since 2004); Chen v. Almodovar, No. 1:25-cv-08350, 2025 WL 3484855 (S.D.N.Y. Dec. 4, 2025) (Vyskocil, J.) (holding that a § 1225 “applicant for admission” includes both arriving aliens and aliens present in the United States that did not enter lawfully); Topal v. Bondi, No. 1:25-cv-01612, 2025 WL 3486894 (W.D. La. Dec. 3, 2025) (Doughty, J.) (holding that Petitioner is unlikely to prevail on the merits of his relief because he is an applicant for admission properly detained under § 1225 that has never received permission to enter the United States); Cruz v. Noem, No. 8:25-CV-02566, 2025 WL 3482630 (C.D. Cal. Dec. 2, 2025) (Blumenfeld Jr., J.) (holding that Petitioner's lengthy presence in the United States after failing to present himself for inspection cannot remove him from § 1225's mandatory-detention framework and that he is still “seeking admission”); Suarez v. Noem, No. 1:25-CV-00202-JMD, 2025 WL 3312168 (E.D. Mo. Nov. 28, 2025) (Divine, J.) (holding that Petitioner is an alien, present in the United States, who has not been admitted, so § 1225 applies to him and detention without a bond hearing is mandatory); Garcia v. Immigr. & Customs Enf't Dep't of Homeland Sec., No. 2:25-CV-1004-KCD-NPM, 2025 WL 3277163 (M.D. Fla. Nov. 25, 2025) (Dudek, J.) (holding that release on recognizance following apprehension at the border does not alter Petitioner's legal classification as an applicant for admission) Andrade v. Patterson, No. 6:25-cv-01695, 2025 WL 3252707 (W.D. La. Nov. 21, 2025) (Joseph, J.) (holding that any alien physically present in the United States who has not been admitted is an “applicant for admission,” regardless of how long they have been in the country or whether they ever intended to apply or enter properly); Alonzo v. Noem, -- F. Supp.

3d --, 2025 WL 3208284 (E.D. Cal. Nov. 17, 2025) (Shubb, J.) (holding that "applicant for admission" is a legal designation for purposes of the removal scheme that covers aliens present in the country but not yet admitted); Valencia v. Chestnut, -- F. Supp. 3d --, 2025 WL 3205133 (E.D. Cal. Nov. 17, 2025) (Shubb, J.) (holding that Petitioner is unlikely to succeed on his challenge to the INA and Due Process clause because an "applicant for admission" is a legal designation not a description of present conduct); Cabanas v. Bondi, No. 4:25-cv-04830, 2025 WL 3171331 (S.D. Tex. Nov. 13, 2025) (Eskridge, J.) (rejecting Petitioner's argument that she was not "seeking admission" given her decades-long residence in the United States); Ramos v. Lyons, No. 2:25-cv-09785, 2025 WL 3199872 (C.D. Cal. Noem*, No. 1:25-cv-00168, 2025 WL 3131942 (E.D. Mo. Nov. 10, 2025) (Divine, J.) (holding that § 1225 does not render the Laken Riley Act superfluous and that Petitioner is detained under § 1225 despite a long-established government practice of detaining under § 1226); Kum v. Ross, No. 6:25-CV-00451, 2025 WL 3113646 (W.D. La. Oct. 22, 2025), (Whitehurst, M.J.), report and recommendation adopted, 2025 WL 3113644 (W.D. La. Nov. 6, 2025) (Joseph, J.) (holding that since Petitioner, who was detained upon entering the United States, is an applicant for admission under § 1225(b), there is no statutory entitlement to release on bond or to a bond hearing); Oliveira v. Patterson, No. 6:25-cv-01463, 2025 WL 3095972 (W.D. La. Nov. 4, 2025) (Joseph, J.) Acuna*, No. 6:25-cv-01467, 2025 WL 3048926 (W.D. La. Oct. 31, 2025) (Joseph, J.) (holding that any alien physically present in the United States who has not been admitted is an "applicant for admission,” regardless of how long they have been in the country or whether they intended to apply or enter properly); Chanaguano Caiza v. Scott, No. 1:25-CV-00500-JAW, 2025 WL 3013081 (D. Me. Oct. 28, 2025) (Woodcock, Jr., J.) (holding that Petitioner is unlikely to succeed on the merits because, upon the automatic expiration of his parole, he was restored to the § 1225 detention status held at the time of parole); Chavez v. Noem, -- F. Supp. 3d --, 2025 WL 2730228 (S.D. Cal. Sept. 24, 2025) (Bencivengo, J.) (holding that Petitioner, as an alien present in the United States who has not been admitted, is an applicant for admission subject to mandatory provision under the plain text of § 1225(b)).

Buenrostro is consistent with the decision of the BIA, the highest administrative body charged with interpreting and applying the immigration laws. See Hurtado, 29 I&N Dec. at 216. In Hurtado, the BIA examined the plain language of § 1225, the INA’s statutory scheme, Supreme Court and BIA precedent, the legislative history of the INA and the Illegal Immigration Reform and Immigrant Responsibility Act of 1996 (“IIRIRA”), Pub L. No. 104-208, and DHS’s prior practices. After doing so, the BIA held that the plain language of 8 U.S.C. § 1225(b)(2)(A) mandates that “Immigration Judges lack authority to hear bond requests or to grant bond to aliens, like the respondent, who are present in the United States without admission.” 29 I&N Dec. at 225.

EXHAUSTION OF ADMINISTRATIVE REMEDIES

“A person seeking habeas relief must first exhaust available administrative remedies.” Hinojosa v. Horn, 896 F. 3d 305, 314 (5th Cir. 2018) (citing United States v. Cleto, 956 F.2d 83, 84 (5th Cir. 1992) (per curiam)). Exhaustion has been a long-standing prerequisite to habeas relief. Id. There are approximately 3.74 million cases pending in immigration court. See <https://www.justice.gov/eoir/pr/eoir-announces-significant-immigration-court-milestones> (Sept. 4, 2025). Federal district courts are not intended nor equipped to be the reviewing court for all immigration bond determinations or decisions related to the institution of removal proceedings. 8 USC § 1226(e) (district courts do not have jurisdiction to review discretionary decisions made by immigration judges regarding the detention or release of any alien or the grant, revocation, or denial of bond or parole). Challenges to bond decisions should be administratively exhausted before being presented in district court. Hinojosa, 896 F. 3d at 314; see Cortez v. Lynch, No. 1:25-CV-822, 2026 WL 82039 (S.D. Ohio Jan. 12, 2026) (McFarland, J.) (declining to review Petitioner's detention-based claims due to his failure to exhaust administrative remedies); Pastor v. Dir. of Detroit Field Off., No. 4:25-CV-02761, 2025 WL 3746495 (N.D. Ohio Dec. 24, 2025) (Calabrese, J.) (holding that petitioner must first pursue challenge before BIA for exhaustion and that such exhaustion is not futile); Bartolon v. Bondi, No. 1:25-CV-747, 2025 WL 3674604 (S.D. Ohio Dec. 18, 2025) (McFarland, J.) (holding that petitioner's failure to exhaust claims with BIA precluded judicial review of habeas claims); Garibay-Robledo v. Noem, No. 1:25-CV-177-H, 2025 WL 3264482 (N.D. Tex. Oct. 24, 2025) (Hendrix, J.) (holding that petitioner does not demonstrate grounds for excusing exhaustion and must first advance his request for relief to BIA).

Petitioner has either chosen not to seek bond before the immigration court, or Petitioner has received a bond determination from an immigration judge that Petitioner contests. Either way Petitioner must first seek relief with the immigration court or the BIA, fully exhausting administrative remedies before coming to this Court.

DUE PROCESS CLAIMS

To the extent Petitioner raises due process claims, those should likewise be denied. Petitioner is receiving or has received due process afforded through removal proceedings in immigration court. In upholding the facial constitutionality of § 1225(b) the Supreme Court in Thuraissigiam found that applicants for admission are entitled only to the protections set forth by statute in the INA. Dep't of Homeland Sec. v. Thuraissigiam, 91 U.S. 103, 140 (2020) (finding aliens who arrive at ports of entry are 'treated' for due process purposes 'as if stopped at the border' and 'only have rights regarding admission that Congress has provided by statute'). Mandatory detention of an applicant for admission during "full" removal proceedings does not violate due process, because constitutional protections are built into those proceedings. See 8 U.S.C. § 1229a. See Demore v. Kim, 538 U.S. 510, 526 (2003) (recognizing the constitutionality of detention during the limited period of removal proceedings).

In Demore, the Supreme Court distinguished the Zadvydas v. Davis analysis and its 8 U.S.C. §1231 post-order framework because petitioners in Demore were still pending removal proceedings. Id. at 527-528 (finding the potentially indefinite detention of a post-final-order case where petitioner cannot be removed from the United States materially distinguishable from continued detention tied to pending removal proceedings). The petitioner in Demore filed a habeas petition after being in immigration custody for approximately six months while removal proceedings were pending. Id. at 530. The District Court granted the petition, and the Ninth Circuit affirmed, finding that continued detention, "as applied" to him, violated substantive due process. Id. at 509. Reversing, the Supreme Court concluded that since removal proceedings were ongoing, detention was "a constitutionally permissible part" of the removal process. Id. at 530.

Consistent with the Supreme Court's long-standing precedent, the Fifth Circuit in Buenrostro found that Zadvydas v. Davis did not apply to detained aliens who received or were receiving due process through removal proceedings. Buenrostro, at *9. Buenrostro also dismissed claims of abuse of detention finding that those concerns were "wholly speculative" Id. For aliens, like Petitioner, who are detained during removal proceedings as applicants for admission, what Congress provided to them by statute satisfies due process. Thuraissigiam, 591 U.S. at 140.

Petitioner has been served with an NTA and is currently scheduled for a removal hearing with an immigration judge. Petitioner does not claim that his removal proceedings are unreasonably prolonged or that he is otherwise being deprived of due process in his removal proceedings. As applied here to Petitioner, detention does not violate due process.

District courts around the country have also dismissed due process concerns in similar contexts. See Calderon Lopez v. Lyons, No. 1:25-CV-226-H, 2026 WL 44683 (N.D. Tex. Jan. 7, 2026) (Hendrix, J.) (holding that nothing in the INA or Due Process Clause contradicts mandatory detention of applications for admission without bond under § 1225); Gutierrez Sosa v. Holt, No. CIV-25-1257-PRW, 2026 WL 36344 (W.D. Okla. Jan. 6, 2026) (Wyrick, J.) (holding that petitioner is unambiguously governed by § 1225 and his due process claim coming three months after arrest is denied as premature); Montoya v. Holt, No. CIV-25-01231-JD, 2025 WL 3733302 (W.D. Okla. Dec. 26, 2025) (Dishman, J.) (holding that petitioner is unambiguously an applicant for admission and that detention without a bond hearing does not violate the Due Process Clause); A.M. v. Joyce, No. 2:25-CV-00615-LEW, 2025 WL 3706922 (D. Me. Dec. 22, 2025) (Walker, J.) (holding that petitioner's approximately one-month detention without a prompt bond hearing is consistent with the INA and the Due Process Clause); Rivera Hernandez v. Noem, No. 9:25-CV-00326, 2025 WL 3754434 (E.D. Tex. Dec. 19, 2025) (Truncale, J.) (holding that § 1225, as the more specific statute, governs petitioner's detention, which does not violate due process as it has not been shown to be indefinite); E.R.J.B. v. Wofford, No. 1:25-CV-01843-WBS-SCR, 2025 WL 3683118 (E.D. Cal. Dec. 18, 2025) (Shubb, J.) (holding that because § 1225 authorizes mandatory detention and is silent on bond hearings, due process is satisfied by the statutory scheme itself); Coronado v. Sec'y, DHS, No. 1:25-CV-831, 2025 WL 3628229 (S.D. Ohio Dec. 15, 2025) (Cole, J.) (holding that because petitioner was never lawfully admitted, detention is governed by § 1225 and bond hearings are unavailable as a matter of statute and due process); Ugarte-Arenas v. Olson, No. 25-C-1721, 2025 WL 3514451 (E.D. Wis. Dec. 8, 2025) (Griesbach, J.) (holding that petitioner, as an applicant for admission, is properly detained without a bond hearing under § 1225, which does not violate Due Process Clause); Jimenez v. Thompson, No. 4:25-CV-05026, 2025 WL 3265493 (S.D. Tex. Nov. 24, 2025) (Eskridge, J.) (rejecting petitioner's argument that mandatory detention without bond hearing violates substantive due process); Rojas v. Olson, No. 25-cv-1437, 2025 WL 3033967 (E.D. Wis. Oct. 30, 2025) (Ludwig, J.) ((holding that petitioner is an applicant for admission despite his prior bond and that his detention does not violate due process because it is limited to the conclusion of his removal proceedings).

CONCLUSION

This case fits squarely within the Fifth Circuit's reasoning in Buenrostro, which held that applicants for admission are properly detained on a mandatory basis under § 1225(b)(2). Buenrostro, 2026 WL 323330 at *1. Petitioner is receiving the process he is owed during removal proceedings, and his continued detention during that process is not unconstitutional. In any event, the orderly legal administration of this issue is now properly before the federal appellate courts and is being given the urgency that questions of detention deserve. Federal Respondents respectfully request that the Court deny this petition.
