PETITION FOR A WRIT OF HABEAS CORPUS UNDER 28 U.S.C. § 2241

INTRODUCTION

Introduction

-I petitioner Kristian Daniel Molina Lopez born in Venezuela had to leave my country for the following reasons. In my country there is no human rights or freedom of speech. There is a dictatorship that has been going on for more than 65 years. This has forced me to run away from my native country.

-To get to the U.S. I had to go thru several countries such as, Colombia, Panama, Costa Rica, Nicaragua, Honduras, Guatemala and Mexico. Going thru all these countries cost me all lot of hard work since I had no money to pay for a guide. Mexico was the hardest because of the danger of the Cartel. I was really scared of being kidnap but I still took the risk to get to the United States.

*-On October 6, 2022 I turned myself in to immigration at the El Paso Tx border I was released on October 10, with Parole 212D5 this means I was admitted to the U.S. Within a years of being in the country I applied for the following documents work permit, driver licensed, social security, asylum and TPS, all these documents were granted.

-I am a family man and all I've done here is provided for my family and try to give my kids a better future. Since I got to the U.S. I've worked in construction, this has helped me provide for my wife and 4 daughters*. My kids are all* U.S. citizens*, I have twins that were born premature with* health issues*. My kids are suffering from my absence and they need my financial support in order to pay for all the medical expenses. I have paid all my taxes since I received me work permit.*

-On April 2nd I was pulled over by the U.S. Marshals, they told me they had a warrant for my arrest. I told them that they were wrong and that I had all of my documents in order. The officer did not care and he took me to an immigration center in Diana Beach. After this I was transferred to a federal prison because of supposed charge of illegal entree. This charge was dismissed by the judge since I provided evidence that I was admitted and Prole in to the country. Judge Robert Castaneda said that my case could not proceed because of lack of evidence. I was then incarcerated in a federal prison like a criminal. I am not a criminal I am a good christian man with good character and morals.

-On October 2nd I was released from federal prison when ICE officers picked me up and took me to a detention center. I was only there for 1 night, then they transferred me to 8915 Montana Ave El Paso, Tx. This were I currently I am. At this detention center I've been treated very badly the officers treat me like a criminal and often discriminate me.

-I hope you consider my case and allowed me to continue my immigration process from home. Keep in mind I have 4 little girls that heavily depend on me. They are U.S citizens and minors. I am not a flight risk, I have never missed an immigration appointment or hearing. I am not a danger to society since I have no criminal record. I am a man who believes in god and I want to thank you for taking the time to consider my petition. God Bless you.

JURISDICTION

JURISDICTION

-This case arises under the Constitution of the United States, the Immigration and Nationality Act ("INA"), 8 U.S.C. §§ 1101, et seq., and the Administrative Procedures Act ("APA"), 5 U.S.C. § 701, et seq.

-This Court has subject matter jurisdiction over this petition and may grant relied pursuant to 28 U.S.C. §§ 2241, 28 U.S.C. § 1331; Article I, § 9, cl. 2 of the United States Constitution (the Suspension Clause); the All-Writs Act, 28 U.S.C. § 1651; the Administrative Procedure Act, 5 U.S.C § 701; and for injunctive relief pursuant to the Declaratory Judgment Act, 28 U.S.C. § 2201.

-Pursuant to 28 U.S.C. § 2241, district courts have jurisdiction to hear habeas petitions by noncitizens who challenge the lawfulness of their detention under federal law. Zadvydas v. Davis, 533 U.S. 678, 687 (2001); Jennings v. Rodriguez, 583 U.S. 281, 292-95 (2018); Maldonado v. Macias, 150 F. Supp. 3D 788, 794 (W.D. Tex. 2015), INS v. St. Cyr, 533 U.S. 289, 364-65 (2001) ("The writ of habeas corpus has always been available to review the legality of executive detention.").

*-Importantly for jurisdictional questions, Petitioner is not asking this court to review an order of removal, nor, indeed, for any relief having to do with this current proceedings in immigration court. Petitioner seeks only habeas relief from his current, illegal detention in the way he was arrested, while those immigration proceedings are ongoing, and for this Court to determine as a matter of law that he is entitled to be released or granted a 5.bond hearing before a neutral arbiter. See also, Lopez-Arevelo v. Ripa, No. Ep-25-CV-337-KC at 1-2, 2025 U.S. dist. LEXIS 188232, at 14-15 (W.D. Tex. Sep. 21, 2025) (stating in part that 8 U.S.C. § 1252(a)(5), §1252(g), and §1226(e) do not deprive a.

-Habeas Court of jurisdiction when a Petitioner is challenging his detention under his right to procedural due process). "[T]he [REAL ID] Act does not, however, preclude habeas review of challenges to detention that are independent of challenges to removal orders." Gutierrez-Soto v. Sessions, 317 F. Supp. 3d 917, 925 (W.D. Tex. 2018).
The Respondents' continued detention of Petitoner constitutes such a "severe restraint on his individual liberty," that he is "in custody in violation of the ... laws ... of the United States." See Hensley v. Municipal Court, 411 U.S. 345, 351 (1973); 28 U.S.C. § 2241; see also Henderson v. Reno, 157 F.3d 106, 122 (2d Cir. 1999), cert. Denied sub nom. Reno v. Navas, 119 S. Ct. 1141 (1999).

III. EXHAUSTION OF REMEDIES

- As recognized by the Fifth Circuit, while exhaustion is the general rule, "exceptions to this general rule" exist. Garner v. U.S. Dep't of Lab., 221 F.3d 822, 825(5th Cir. 2000). "A failure to exhaust administrative remedies may be excused when the claimant advances a constitutional challenge unsuitable for determination in an administrative proceeding, or when the unexhausted remedy is plainly inadequate."
*"When a petitioner's due process claim does not assert a procedural error correctable by the BIA, it is not subject to an exhaustion requirement." Lopez de Jesus v. Imm.& Naturalization Serv., 312 F.3d 155, 162 n. 47(5th Cir. 2002). Federal courts have "the discretion to excuse the exhaustion requirement" Garner, 221 F.3d at 825. Here, the "constitutional challenges are not the types of questions" requiring exhaustion, and requiring Petitioner "to exhaust administrative remedies relating to same would be an exercise in futility." Exhaustion, furthermore, may also be excused when delay would result in hardship. See Shalala v. III. Council on Long Term Care, Inc., 529 U.S. 1, 13, 120 S. Ct. 1084, 146 L. Ed. 2D 1 (2000) [6].

*-Exhaustion is not required where the administrative remedy is inadequate due to agency bias. Numerous courts have recognized the bias inherent in the ICE custody review process. See Phan v. Reno, 56 F. Supp. 2d 1149, 1157 (W.D. Wash.1999) ("We have...concerns about the quality of the review afforded by INS to the Petitioners. Indeed, our review of the record confirms that INS does not meaningfully and impartially review the Petitioners' custody status."); Rivera v. Demore, No. C 99-3042 THE, 1999 WL 521177, 7 (N.D. Cal. Jul. 13, 1999) (procedural due process requires that alien release determination be made by impartial adjudicator due to agency bias); Ekekhor v. Aljets, 979 F. Supp. 640, 644 (N.D. Ill. 1997); St. John v. McElroy, 917 F. Supp. 243, 251 (S.D.N.Y. 1996) ("Due to political and community pressure, INS, an executive agency, has every incentive to continue to detain aliens with aggravated felony convictions, even though they have served their sentences, on the suspicion that they may continue to pose a danger to the community."

IV. VENUE

-Pursuant to Braden v. 30 th Judicial Circuit Court of Kentucky, 410 U.S. 484, 493-500 (1973), venue lies in the United States District Court for the Western District Court of Texas, the judicial district in which Petitioner resides.

V. LEGAL FRAMEWORK

*-Habeas petitioners must show they are "in custody in violaton of the constitution or laws or treaties of the United States." Herrera v. Tate, F. Supp. 3D, No. CVH-25-3364, 2025 U.S. Pist. LEXIS 189999, 2025 WL 2774610, at 4 (S.D. Tex. Sept. 26, 2025) (quoting 28 U.S.C. § 2241(c)(3)). They "bear the burden of proving that [they are] being held contrary to law; and because the habeas proceeding is civil in nature, the petitioner must satisfy this burden of proof by a preponderance of the evidence." (quoting Skaftouros v. United States, 667 F.3d 144, 158(2d Cir. 2011) and citing Bruce v. Estelle, 536 F.2d 1051, 1058 (5th Cir. 1976)). Courts "considering a habeas petition must 'determine the facts and dispose of the matter as law and justice require.'" (quoting 28 U.S.C. § 2243).

- The Supreme Court has referred to the "Great Writ" as "perhaps the most important writ known to the constitutional law of England, affording as it does a swift and imperative remedy in cases of illegal restraint or confinement" and "received into out own law in the colonial period." Fay v. Noia, 372 U.S. 391, 400, 83 S. Ct. 822, 9 L. Ed. 2D 837 (1963), overruled in part on other grounds, Wainwright v. Sykes, 433 U.S. 72, 97 S. Ct. 2497, 53 L. Ed. 2D 594 (1977), and abrogated in part on other grounds by Coleman v. Thompson, 501 U.S. 722, 111 S. Ct. 2546, 115 L. Ed. 2D 640 (1991). The importance of this Great Writ was not lost on the Justices of the Civil Rights era who recognized that the writ's *function has been to provide a prompt and efficacious remedy for whatever society deems to be intolerable restraints. Its root principle is that in a civilized society, government must always be accountable to the judiciary for a man's imprisonment: if the imprisonment cannot be shown to conform with the fundamental requirements of law, the individual is entitled to his immediate release. Thus there is nothing novel in the fact that today habeas corpus in the federal [7] courts provides a mode for the redress of denials of due process of law, vindication of due process is precisely its historic office.

-"Only in the rarest of circumstances has congress seen fit to suspend the writ." Hamdi v. Rumsfeld, 542 U.S. 507, 525, 124 S. Ct. 2633, 159 L. Ed. 2D 578 (2004). "absent suspension, the Writ of Habeas Corpus remains available to every individual detained within the United States." (citing U.S. const., Art. I, § 9. Cl. 2 ("The privilege of the Writ of Habeas Corpus shall not be suspended, unless when in cases of Rebellion or Invasion the Public safety may require it")). Indeed, absent suspension, it is available to "challenge the legality of their detention" by "noncitizens detained by our Government in territory over which another country maintians de Jure Sovereignty," such as Guantanamo Bay. Boumediene v. Bush, 553 U.S. 723, 770, 128 S. Ct. 2229, 171 L. Ed. 2D 41 (2008). The Great Writ remains "a critical check on the Executive, ensuring that it does not detain individuals except in accordance with law." Hamdi, 542 U.S. at 525 (citing Imm. & Naturalization Serv. v. St. Cyr, 533 U.S. 289, 301, 121 S. Ct. 2271, 150 L. Ed. 2D 347 (2001), superseded by statute on other grounds as stated in Nasrallah v. Barr, 590 U.S. 573, 580, 140 S. Ct. 1683, 207 L. Ed 111 (2020)).

The fundamental protection of habeas corpus applies to immigration-related detention. See Zadvydas v. Davis, 533 U.S. 678, 687, 121 S. Ct. 2491, 150 L. Ed. 2D 653 (2001). The Supreme Court in Zadvydas noted: It is well established that certain constitutional protections available to persons inside the United States are unavailable to aliens outside of our geographic borders. But once an alien enters the country, the legal circumstance changes, for the Due Process Clause applies to all "persons" within the United States, including aliens, whether their presence here is lawful, unlawful, temporary, or permanent.

VI First Cause of Action

-In Zadvydas, the U.S. Supreme Court found that six months is a presumptively reasonable period during which ICE may detain aliens in order to effectuate their removal. Id. at 702. "Once the alien provides good reason to believe that there is no significant likelihood of removal in the reasonably foreseeable future, the Government must respond with evidence sufficient to rebut that showing." Id. at 701. In Clark v. Martinez, 543 U.S. 371 (2005), the Supreme Court held that its ruling in Zadvydas applies equally to inadmissible aliens. Id. at 386. Therefore, detention under § 1225(b)(2)(A) is subject to a reasonable time limitation. Maldonado, 150 F. Supp. 3d at 805. The Due Process Clause of the Fifth Amendment requires that any deprivation of Petitioner's liberty be narrowly tailored to serve a compelling government interest. Although ICE has an interest in detaining Petitioner to effectuate his removal, it can do

-Petitioner's Detention Violates the Administrative Procedures Act, 5 U.S.C. § 706(2).Petitioner's detention violates the INA and its regulations, pending his asylum Application, he has established that he is eligible to adjust his status to that of a Legal Permanent Resident; meanwhile, the Respondents have utterly failed to provided him with any meaningful opportunity to present argument or evidence in favor of his release, nor did they make any individualized determination that he poses a flight risk or danger. Rather, Petitioner's prolonged detention appears to be impermissible based on general mandates within the agency rather than the individual judgment of ICE officers on the ground.

VII. Second Cause Of Action

-Under the Immigration and Nationality Act ("INA") § 287(a)(2) only allows immigration officials to make a warrantless arrest if they have "reason to believe" that the person is likely to escape before a warrant could be obtained. See De La Paz v. Coy, 786 F.3d 367, 376 (5th Cir. Tex. 2015) (stating that an "arrest shall be made by ICE Agents only when the designated immigration officer has reason to believe that the person to be arrested has committed an offense against the United States or is an alien illegally in the United States.")

- The De La Paz Court further stated ... "even if an agent has reasonable belief, before making an arrest, there must also be 'a likelihood of the person escaping before a warrant can be obtained for his arrest'", citing to 8 U.S.C. § 1357(a)(2)(5). Reasonable suspicion for an immigration stop cannot be based "on broad profiles which cast suspicion on entire categories of people without any individualized suspicion of the particular person to be stopped." United States v. Rodriguez Sanchez, 23 F.3d 1488, 1492 (9th Cir. 1994). Rather, reasonable suspicion must be "particularized and objective," United States v. Arvizu, 534 U.S. 266, 273 (2002).

VIII. Third Cause Of Action

-The Supreme Court has recognized that the Fourth Amendment is violated by prolonged detention solely for the purpose of investigating immigration status. See Arizona v. United States, 132 S. Ct. 2492, 2509 (2012) (stating that "Detaining individuals solely to verify their immigration status would raise constitutional concerns.")

- In Zadvydas, the U.S. Supreme Court found that six months is a presumptively reasonable period during which ICE may detain aliens in order to effectuate their removal. Id. at 702. "Once the alien provides good reason to believe that there is no significant likelihood of removal in the reasonably foreseeable future, the Government must respond with evidence sufficient to rebut that showing." Id. at 701. In Clark v. Martinez, 543 U.S. 371 (2005), the Supreme Court held that its ruling in Zadvydas applies equally to inadmissible aliens. Id. at 386. Therefore, detention under § 1225(b)(2)(A) is subject to a reasonable time limitation. Maldonado, 150 F. Supp. 3d at 805. The Due Process Clause of the Fifth Amendment requires that any deprivation of Petitioner's liberty be narrowly tailored to serve a compelling government interest. Although ICE has an interest in detaining Petitioner to effectuate his removal, it can do so in an unconstitutional manner. Gutierrez-Soto v. Sessions, at 925. As such, Petitioner's mandatory detention is unreasonable. Maldonado held that an individualized bond hearing was the appropriate remedy in such a case to provide a safeguard against indefinite detention. Id. at 812. Respondents have exceeded their authority to detain Petitioner, and an individualized bond hearing before a neutral adjudicator is justified on the facts of this case.

-{196 L. Ed. 2d 490}{137 S. Ct. 472} The parties are directed to file supplemental briefs addressing {196 L. Ed. 2d 491} the following questions: 1) Whether the Constitution requires that aliens seeking admission to the United States who are subject to mandatory detention under 8 U.S.C. § 1225(b) must be afforded bond hearings, with the possibility of release into the United States, if detention lasts six months. 2) Whether the Constitution requires that criminal or terrorist aliens who are subject to mandatory detention under Section 1226(c) must be afforded bond hearings, with the possibility of release, if detention lasts six months. 3) Whether the Constitution requires that, in bond hearings for aliens detained for six months under Sections 1225(b), 1226(c), or 1226(a), the alien is entitled to release unless the government demonstrates by clear and convincing evidence that the alien is a flight risk or a danger to the community, whether the length of the alien's detention must be weighed in favor of release, and whether new bond hearings must be afforded automatically every six months. The briefs are to be filed simultaneously with the Clerk and served upon opposing counsel on or before 2 pm., Tuesday, January 17, 2017. Amicus{2016 U.S. LEXIS 2} briefs may be filed with the Clerk and served upon counsel on or before 2 pm., Friday, January 27, 2017. Reply briefs are to be filed simultaneously with the Clerk and served upon opposing counsel on or before 2 p.m., Monday, February 6, 2017. The word limits and cover colors for the briefs should correspond to the provisions of Rule 33.1(g) pertaining to briefs on the merits rather than to the provision pertaining to supplemental briefs.

-{155 L. Ed. 2d 729} Under the Immigration and Nationality Act, 8 U.S.C. § 1226(c) [8 USCS § 1226(c)], "the Attorney General shall take into custody any alien who" is removable from this country because he has been convicted of one of a specified set of crimes, including an "aggravated felony." After respondent, a lawful permanent resident alien, was convicted in state court of first-degree burglary and, later, of "petty theft with priors," the Immigration and Naturalization Service (INS) charged him with being deportable from the United States in light of these convictions, and detained him pending his removal hearing. Without disputing the validity of his convictions or the INS' conclusion that he is deportable{2003 U.S. LEXIS 2} and therefore subject to mandatory detention under § 1226(c), respondent filed a habeas corpus action challenging § 1226(c) on the ground that his detention thereunder violated due process because the INS had made no determination that he posed either a danger to society or a flight risk. The District Court agreed and granted respondent's petition subject to the INS' prompt undertaking of an individualized bond hearing, after which respondent was released on bond. In affirming, the Ninth Circuit held that § 1226(c) violates substantive due process as applied to respondent because he is a lawful permanent resident, the most favored category of aliens. The court rejected the Government's two principal justifications for mandatory detention under § 1226(c), discounting the first – ensuring the presence of criminal aliens at their removal proceedings – upon finding that not all aliens detained pursuant to § 1226(c) would ultimately be deported, and discounting the second--protecting the public from dangerous criminal aliens--on the grounds that the aggravated felony classification triggering respondent's detention included crimes (such as respondent's) that the court did not{2003 U.S. LEXIS 3} consider "egregious" or otherwise sufficiently dangerous to the public to {155 L. Ed. 2d 730} necessitate mandatory detention. Relying on Zadvydas v. Davis, 533 U.S. 678, 150 L. Ed. 2d 653, 121 S. Ct. 2491, the court concluded that the INS had not provided a justification for no-bail civil detention sufficient to overcome a permanent resident alien's liberty interest.

- Section 1226(e) --which states that "the Attorney General's discretionary judgment regarding the application of this section shall not be subject to review" and that "[n]o court may set aside any action or decision by the Attorney General under this section regarding the detention or release of any alien"--does not deprive the federal courts of jurisdiction to grant habeas relief to aliens challenging their detention under § 1226(c). Respondent does not challenge a "discretionary judgment" by the Attorney General or a "decision" that the Attorney General has made regarding his detention or release. Rather, respondent challenges the statutory framework that permits his detention without bail. Where Congress intends to preclude judicial review of constitutional claims its intent to do so must be clear. E.g., Webster v. Doe, 486 U.S. 592, 603, 100 L. Ed. 2d 632, 108 S. Ct. 2047.{2003 U.S. LEXIS 4} And, where a provision precluding review is claimed to bar habeas review, the Court requires a particularly clear statement that such is Congress' intent. See INS v. St. Cyr, 533 U.S. 289, 308-309, 298, 327, 150 L. Ed. 2d 347, 121 S. Ct. 2271. Section 1226(e) contains no explicit provision barring habeas review.

-The District Court agreed with respondent that § 1226(c)'s requirement of mandatory detention for certain criminal aliens was unconstitutional. Kim v Schiltgen{2003 U.S. LEXIS 10} , No. C 99-2257 SI {538 U.S. 515} (Aug. 11, 1999), App. to Pet. for Cert. 31a-51a. The District Court therefore granted respondent's petition subject to the INS' prompt undertaking of an individualized bond hearing to determine whether respondent posed either a flight risk or a danger to the community. Id., at 50a.

Background

I am currently detained in the custody of Immigration and Customs Enforcement (ICE) while my immigration proceedings are active, including a pending appeal before the Board of Immigration Appeals (BIA).

Grounds for the request

My transfer to another jurisdiction or detention center could substantially affect my access to case documentation and my ability to communicate with my family members and potential legal resources. Any relocation could cause unnecessary delays in my immigration proceedings and hinder the proper exercise of my due process rights.

Petition

Based on the foregoing, I respectfully request:
To remain at my current detention center.
To avoid any transfer to another detention center.
That the negative impact impact a transfer would have on the continuity of my immigration proceedings be taken into consideration.

IX. Fourth Cause Of Action

-Immigration detention is a form of civil confinement that "constitutes a significant deprivation of liberty that requires due process protection." Addington v. Texas, 441 U.S. 418, 4253 (1979).

-The Supreme Court has recognized that the Fourth Amendment is violated by prolonged detention solely for the purpose of investigating immigration status. See Arizona v. United States, 132 S. Ct. 2492, 2509 (2012) (stating that "Detaining individuals solely to verify their immigration status would raise constitutional concerns.")

-Under the Immigration and Nationality Act ("INA") § 287(a)(2) only allows immigration officials to make a warrantless arrest if they have "reason to believe" that the person is likely to escape before a warrant could be obtained. See De La Paz v. Coy, 786 F.3d 367, 376 (5th Cir. Tex. 2015) (stating that an "arrest shall be made by ICE -Agents only when the designated immigration officer has reason to believe that the person to be arrested has committed an offense against the United States or is an alien illegally in the United States.")

-The De La Paz Court further stated ... "even if an agent has reasonable belief, before making an arrest, there must also be 'a likelihood of the person escaping before a warrant can be obtained for his arrest'", citing to 8 U.S.C. § 1357(a)(2)(5).

-Reasonable suspicion for an immigration stop cannot be based "on broad profiles which cast suspicion on entire categories of people without any individualized suspicion of the particular person to be stopped." United States v. Rodriguez Sanchez, 23 F.3d 1488; 1492 (9th Cir. 1994). Rather, reasonable suspicion must be "particularized and objective," United States v. Arvizu, 534 U.S. 266, 273 (2002).

PLEASE READ THIS ENTIRE NOTICE CAREFULLY. To process your application, petition, or request, the U.S. Citizenship & Immigration Services (USCIS) must collect your biometrics. Please appear at the below Application Support Center (ASC) at the date and time specified.

WARNING: Unless USCIS excuses you based on good cause, failure to appear at this biometrics appointment will result in an applicant-caused delay that will impact your eligibility for employment authorization based on your pending asylum application. If you fail to appear at this appointment as scheduled, USCIS may: (1) dismiss your asylum application, if you are in lawful immigration status or paroled; or (2) refer your application to an immigration judge, if you are not in lawful immigration status or paroled. If you fail to appear at this appointment as scheduled, and you are currently in removal proceedings, an immigration judge may deem your asylum application abandoned.

Only those necessary to assist with transportation or completion of the biometrics worksheet should accompany you to your ASC appointment. If you have open wounds, bandages, or casts when you appear for biometrics submission, USCIS may reschedule your ASC appointment if we determine your injuries may interfere with your biometrics submission. Please do not visit a USCIS office if you are sick or feel symptoms of being sick. Follow the instructions on this notice to reschedule your appointment.

You may bring cell phones or electronic devices, but they must be turned off during biometrics collection. No one may photograph or record at an ASC.

If you are in removal proceedings, you must also notify the Executive Office for Immigration Review (EOIR or Immigration Court) within five working days of any change of address or telephone number by filing a completed Form EOIR-33, Alien's Change of Address/Phone Number Form/Immigration Court. For instructions, visit https://www.justice.gov/eoir/form-eoir-33-eoir-immigration-court-listing.

USCIS may use your biometrics to check the criminal history records of the FBI, for identity verification, to determine eligibility, to create immigration documents (e.g., Green Card, Employment Authorization Document, etc.), or for any purpose authorized by the Immigration and Nationality Act. You may obtain a copy of your own FBI record using the procedures outlined within Title 28 C.F.R. Section 16.32. Notice Type: Receipt Notice
Amount received: $.00 U.S.
Class requested: C08

We have received the application or petition ("your case") listed above. This notice only shows that your case was filed on the "Received Date" listed above. It does NOT grant you any immigration status or immigration benefit, and it is not evidence that your case is still pending. We will notify you in writing when we make a decision on your case or if we need additional information.

If you are applying for your initial (first) employment authorization based on having a pending asylum application and USCIS does not adjudicate the application within 30 days, you may be a member of the class action case, Rosario v. USCIS, Case No. C15-0813JLR. Please see www.uscis.gov/rosario for further information about this class action case and how to investigate the status of your employment authorization application.

Please save this and any other notices about your case for your records. You should also keep copies of anything you send us, as well as proof of delivery. Have these records available when you contact us about your case.

If any of the information in your notice is incorrect or you have any questions about your case, you can connect with the USCIS Contact Center at www.uscis.gov/contactcenter or ask about your case online at www.uscis.gov/e-request. You will need your Alien Registration Number (A-Number) and/or the receipt number shown above.

You can receive updates on your case by visiting www.uscis.gov/casestatus to get the latest status or you can create an account at my.uscis.gov/account and receive email updates for your case.

Automatic Employment Authorization Document (EAD) Extension - This notice, by itself, does not grant any immigration status or benefit, nor is it evidence that this case is still pending. However, if you are eligible, you may to use this notice in conjunction with your facially expired Form I-766, Employment Authorization Document (EAD), as proof of an automatic extension of employment authorization and/or EAD, as applicable.

You are eligible for an automatic extension of your employment authorization and/or EAD if:

- You have timely filed to renew your current employment authorization and/or EAD;
- Your EAD renewal request is under a category that is eligible for an automatic extension (see uscis.gov/eadautoextend for a list of eligible categories);
- The category on your current EAD matches the "Class Requested" listed on this notice (if you are a TPS beneficiary or applicant, your EAD and this notice must contain either the A12 or C19 class, but they do not need to match each other); and
- Your EAD renewal application is still pending with USCIS when your current EAD expires.

If eligible, you may present this notice to an employer with your expired EAD (and Form I-94, Arrival/Departure Record, if applicable) for employment eligibility verification (Form I-9) purposes.

If eligible, your automatic extension is for up to 540 days from the expiration date printed on the front of your EAD. If we deny your EAD renewal application, the automatic extension immediately ends, and you can no longer present this notice to your employer for Form I-9 purposes. If your EAD is also your Advance Parole document, the automatic extension does not apply to advance parole.

If you are applying to renew A17, A18, and C26 employment authorization and you are relying upon the automatic extension to demonstrate your employment authorization during the automatic extension period, you must show this receipt notice, an unexpired I-94 showing valid E, L-2, or H-4 status, and a facially expired A17, A18, or C26 EAD that matches this receipt notice. Your EAD automatic extension terminates the earliest of: the end date on your I-94, the date we adjudicate this application, or 540 days after the expiration date on your EAD.

For more information, please see our website at uscis.gov/eadautoextend.

Processing time - Processing times vary by form type.

- When we make a decision on your case or if we need something from you, we will notify you by mail and update our systems.

You must wait for that separate appointment notice and take it (NOT this receipt notice) to your ASC appointment along with your photo identification. Acceptable kinds of photo identification are:

(For example: If you wish to obtain your mother's birth certificate and your parents' marriage certificate, both of which are in the USCIS file that pertains to her, submit one Form G-884 with your mother's information.)

NOTICE: The information you provide on and in support of applications and petitions is submitted under the penalty of perjury. We may review public information and records, contact others by mail, the internet or phone, conduct site inspections of businesses and residences, or use other methods of verification. We will use the information obtained to determine whether you are eligible for the benefit you seek. If we find any derogatory information, we will follow the law in determining whether to provide you (and the legal representative listed on your Form G-28, if you submitted one) an opportunity to address that information before we make a formal decision on your case or start proceedings.

Please see the additional information on the back. You will be notified separately about any other cases you filed.

Valid from 08/15/2023 to 08/14/2025

We have approved your application for employment authorization. We will send your Employment Authorization Document (EAD) (also known as an EAD card or Form I-766) to you separately.

Your EAD card is proof that you are allowed to work in the United States. Show the card to your employer to verify your authorization to work during the dates on the card. You cannot use this approval notice as proof of your employment authorization.

When you receive your EAD card, please check that all the information on the card is correct. If you need to change any information on the card, please mail all of the following to the office listed below:

- A letter explaining what information needs to be corrected,
- Your EAD card,
- A photocopy of this notice, and
- Evidence to show what the correct information should be. For example, if you need to correct your name, submit a copy of your birth certificate or official name change.

If You Have a Pending Form I-485

If you have a pending or approved Form I-140 and a pending Form I-485, you may request to change employers if your Form I-485 has been pending for at least 180 days. In order to do so, you need to submit documentation about your new job offer. For more information on how to request a change of employers and what information you must submit, please visit the USCIS website at www.uscis.gov.

If your EAD card expires before we make a final decision on your Form I-485, you may apply for a new EAD card.

THIS FORM IS NOT A VISA AND MAY NOT BE USED IN PLACE OF A VISA OR EVIDENCE OF EMPLOYMENT AUTHORIZATION.

NOTICE: Although this application or petition has been approved, USCIS and the U.S. Department of Homeland Security reserve the right to verify this information before and/or after making a decision on your case so we can ensure that you have complied with applicable laws, rules, regulations, and other legal authorities. We may review public information and records, contact others by mail, the internet or phone, conduct site inspections of businesses and residences, or use other methods of verification. We will use the information obtained to determine whether you are eligible for the benefit you seek. If we find any derogatory information, we will follow the law in determining whether to provide you (and the legal representative listed on your Form G-28, if you submitted one) an opportunity to address that information before we make a formal decision on your case or start proceedings.

Please see the additional information on the back. You will be notified separately about any other cases you filed.

MOLINA LOPEZ, KRISTIAN DANIEL
[redacted]

Notice Type: Approval Notice
Valid from: 01/08/2025 to 04/02/2025

You have been granted Temporary Protected Status (TPS) under section 244 of the Immigration and Nationality Act. The benefits of TPS are temporary protection from removal (or deportation), employment authorization in the United States, and the opportunity to apply for travel authorization.

Attached to this notice is a Form I-94 indicating your Temporary Protected Status in the United States. The I-94 is valid until the expiration date shown on it.

If you requested an employment authorization document (EAD) pursuant to your registration for TPS, you will receive a separate notice containing the decision on that request. If your EAD request is approved, you will be issued an EAD that will be valid until the expiration date shown on the EAD itself. The EAD will serve as evidence of your TPS and employment authorization.

If the TPS designation is extended, you must re-register with U.S. Citizenship and Immigration Services (USCIS) within the time period designated for re-registration. If you wish to obtain an EAD valid for the time period of the extended TPS designation, you must also apply for an EAD during the filing period(s) described in the applicable Federal Register notice (FRN). The FRN notice will provide guidance on required forms and application fees to re-register for TPS and to apply for a new EAD. You should also pay close attention to any future FRNs issued by USCIS regarding your country's TPS, including any information that may be included in such notices about possible automatic extensions of the validity date(s) on EADs.

Failure to re-register during a TPS extension re-registration period may result in the withdrawal of your TPS and may result in removal proceedings being initiated against you.

While you are under Temporary Protected Status, you:

(1) will not be removed from the United States;
(2) have work authorization and will be granted evidence of work authorization, if you have submitted an EAD request with the required fee, that is valid until the expiration of the time period designated for your Temporary Protected Status;

Please see the additional information on the back. You will be notified separately about any other cases you filed.

Notice Type: Receipt Notice
Amount received: $470.00 U.S.
Class requested: C08

We have received the application or petition ("your case") listed above. This notice only shows that your case was filed on the "Received Date" listed above. It does NOT grant you any immigration status or immigration benefit, and it is not evidence that your case is still pending. We will notify you in writing when we make a decision on your case or if we need additional information.

If you are applying for your initial (first) employment authorization based on having a pending asylum application and USCIS does not adjudicate the application within 30 days, you may be a member of the class action case, Rosario v. USCIS, Case No. C15-0813JLR. Please see www.uscis.gov/rosario for further information about this class action case and how to investigate the status of your employment authorization application.

Please save this and any other notices about your case for your records. You should also keep copies of anything you send us, as well as proof of delivery. Have these records available when you contact us about your case.

If any of the information in your notice is incorrect or you have any questions about your case, you can connect with the USCIS Contact Center at www.uscis.gov/contactcenter or ask about your case online at www.uscis.gov/e-request. You will need your Alien Registration Number (A-Number) and/or the receipt number shown above.

You can receive updates on your case by visiting www.uscis.gov/casestatus to get the latest status or you can create an account at my.uscis.gov/account and receive email updates for your case.

If you filed to renew your Employment Authorization Document (EAD) under category A03, A05, A07, A08, A10, A12, A17, A18, C08, C09, C10, C16, C19, C20, C22, C24, C26, or C31, you might be eligible for an automatic extension of your EAD. Full details and an eligibility calculator are at uscis.gov/eadautoextend.

You qualify for an automatic extension if:

- The category on your current EAD matches the "Class Requested" listed on this notice; and
- The "Received Date" on this notice is before the "Card Expires" date on your EAD.

If you filed under the A12 or C19 classifications, you qualify for an automatic extension if:

- This notice and your expired EAD contain either A12 or C19 (they do not need to match); and
- You filed your renewal Form I-765 during the TPS re-registration period indicated in the applicable Federal Register notice for your country found at uscis.gov/tps.

If you are eligible for an automatic extension of your EAD, you can show this notice with your expired EAD to your employer for employment eligibility verification (Form I-9) purposes. The automatic extension is for up to 540 days from the expiration date printed on the front of your EAD. If we deny your renewal application, the automatic extension immediately ends; and you can no longer use this notice for Form I-9 purposes. If your EAD is also your Advance Parole document, the automatic extension does not apply to Advance Parole. This notice, by itself, does not grant any immigration status or benefit, nor is it evidence that this renewal application is still pending.

If you are applying to renew your A17, A18, or C26 employment authorization and you are relying upon the automatic extension to demonstrate your employment authorization during the automatic extension period, you must show: (1) this receipt notice; (2) an unexpired Form I-94, Arrival-Departure Record, showing valid E, L-2, or H-4 status; and (3) your A17, A18, or C26 EAD that matches the category on this receipt notice. Your automatic extension ends on the earliest of: the end date on your I-94; the date we adjudicate this renewal application; or 540 days after the expiration date on your EAD.

Processing time - Processing times vary by form type.

- Visit www.uscis.gov/processingtimes to see the current processing times by form type and field office or service center.
- If you do not receive an initial decision or update within our current processing time, you can try our online tools available at www.uscis.gov/tools or ask about your case online at www.uscis.gov/e-request.
- When we make a decision on your case or if we need something from you, we will notify you by mail and update our systems.

Please see the additional information on the back. You will be notified separately about any other cases you filed.

Biometrics - We require biometrics (fingerprints, a photo, and a signature) for some types of cases. If we need biometrics from you, we will send you a SEPARATE appointment notice with a specific date, time and place for you to go to a USCIS Application Support Center (ASC) for biometrics processing. You must wait for that separate appointment notice and take it (NOT this receipt notice) to your ASC appointment along with your photo identification. Acceptable kinds of photo identification are:

- A passport or national photo ID issued by your country,
- A driver's license,
- A military photo ID, or
- A state-issued photo ID card.

If you receive more than one ASC appointment notice (even for different cases), take them both to the first appointment date.

If your address changes - If you move while your case is pending, please visit www.uscis.gov/addresschange for information on how to update your address. Remember to update your address for all your receipt numbers.

Return of Original Documents - Use Form G-884, Request for the Return of Original Documents, to request the return of original documents submitted to establish eligibility for an immigration or citizenship benefit. You only need to submit one Form G-884 if you are requesting multiple documents contained in a single USCIS file. However, if the requested documentation is in more than one USCIS file, you must submit a separate request for each file. (For example: If you wish to obtain your mother's birth certificate and your parents' marriage certificate, both of which are in the USCIS file that pertains to her, submit one Form G-884 with your mother's information.)

NOTICE: The information you provide on and in support of applications and petitions is submitted under the penalty of perjury. USCIS and the U.S. Department of Homeland Security reserve the right to verify this information before and/or after making a decision on your case so we can ensure that you have complied with applicable laws, rules, regulations, and other legal authorities. We may review public information and records, contact others by mail, the internet or phone, conduct site inspections of businesses and residences, or use other methods of verification. We will use the information obtained to determine whether you are eligible for the benefit you seek. If we find any derogatory information, we will follow the law in determining whether to provide you (and the legal representative listed on your Form G-28, if you submitted one) an opportunity to address that information before we make a formal decision on your case or start proceedings.

Please see the additional information on the back. You will be notified separately about any other cases you filed.

To who it may concern

I, Kimberlin Sanchez, wife of detainee Kristian Molina López, reside at [redacted] and am writing this letter so that you may know who Kristian Molina is.

He is an extraordinary man with strong values—an excellent father, husband, son, brother, and companion. Words fall short in describing what a wonderful human being he is: a remarkably responsible person dedicated entirely to his family and his work. I feel that if I kept describing the wonderful man he is, I wouldn't have enough pages to finish.

Since my husband was taken on April 2, 2026, everything has been chaotic for me and our four daughters. God and my husband are the sole support of our household. We have been left alone in a country where we have no one else; we only have each other as a family. Ever since he was taken, everything has fallen apart—the rent, the car payment, the bank accounts, everything. And I am unable to work because I have no one to stay with our daughters while I am away.

Beyond all the material aspects, our four daughters and I miss him immensely. Although what I feel might not matter—because I can fight through it—tell me, how do I explain to a 1-year-old baby that her father isn't here because he was taken unjustly, and not because he abandoned them? How do I tell them to stop crying when they scream "Daddy" and pound on the door trying to go out and look for him? What do I do in the middle of the night when my baby wakes up crying and screaming "Daddy," and when I try to hold and comfort her, she pushes me away because she only wants her father?

They were used to their father waking them up in the morning with kisses before leaving for work, and in the afternoons, when he arrived home, they would run to open the door and play with him. At night, before going to bed, we would all gather in the room to sing, pray, and praise God, followed by a goodnight kiss and a hug so they could sleep peacefully, knowing their father was there to protect them.

Now, she has to be seen by a child psychologist because they cannot understand how a 1-year-old baby can have such severe reactions. She is supposed to be just a baby, and over time it should have passed, but to this day, she fights going to sleep—whereas before, she slept peacefully. Now, she doesn't even want to come back into the house; she only wants to stay outside, crying. No matter how much time we spend outside, when it's time to come back in, she refuses and says she wants to go look for Daddy.

And when it comes to our oldest daughter, it is almost the same. She just cries because she misses her father. I talk to her and she calms down, but then she starts crying again, asking when her daddy is coming home. What can a 6-year-old child understand when her whole world is her father? She cries and says she doesn't want to stay at home, that she wants to go where her daddy is. On her kindergarten graduation day, she cried and kept asking what time her father would arrive as she saw her classmates with their parents—and hers couldn't make it. Sometimes she doesn't want to eat, she has trouble sleeping, and if I take her to the park to distract her, she starts crying because she says it reminds her of when her dad used to play with her.

Please, I only ask that you take this letter into consideration. Help me bring my husband back home to our daughters. He is a deeply present father in their lives—a father to four beautiful princesses for whom, alongside myself, he is our entire world.

Strategies to Help Support [redacted]

1. Keep routines very consistent
Toddlers rely heavily on predictability to feel safe. Try to keep daily routines (meals, naps, bedtime) as steady as possible. Even small consistencies help reduce anxiety.

2. Increase nurturing and physical comfort
She may need more holding, cuddling, rocking, or sitting close. Responding quickly to distress builds a sense of security, not "spoiling."

3. Use simple, reassuring language
Even though she doesn't fully understand, brief explanations help:

- "Daddy is not here right now."
- "You are safe. I am here with you."
  Keep it simple and repeat consistently.

4. Support emotional expression
At this age, emotions come out through behavior rather than words. Help label feelings:

- "You look sad."
- "You miss Daddy."
  This builds emotional awareness over time.

5. Use transitional objects or connection items
If possible:

- Photos of her father
- A shirt or item that smells like him
- Short video or voice recordings
  These can provide comfort and maintain connection.

6. Play-based expression
Toddlers process through play. Provide:

- Dolls or stuffed animals (she may act out separation)
- Simple pretend play
  Follow her lead without correcting or directing too much.

7. Expect and normalize regression
She may:

- Want to be held more
- Have more tantrums

- Struggle with sleep
  This is a normal stress response, not misbehavior.

8. Support the caregiver's emotional state
She will pick up on the remaining caregiver's stress. Encourage the caregiver to:

- Stay as calm and regulated as possible around her
- Seek their own support when needed

9. Provide extra reassurance during transitions
Separations (drop-off, bedtime) may be harder. Use:

- Predictable goodbye routines
- Short, consistent reassurances ("I'll be back")

10. Monitor for ongoing distress
If symptoms persist or intensify (e.g., significant withdrawal, sleep refusal, constant distress), additional support from an early childhood mental health professional may be helpful.

To who it may concern

I, Johanna Colon Castro, of legal age and residing at [redacted] wish to state that I know Mr. Kristian Molina López my neighbor to be a very calm, hardworking man, as well as a good husband and father. I have witnessed how difficult it has been for his wife, Kimberlin Sanchez, to manage on her own with their four daughters who are very young since he is the family's sole provider; I also see how much his daughters miss him. They are a very close-knit Christian couple. Should you require any further information from me regarding him, please feel free to call, and I would be happy to assist you.
